Prerequisite: MTH095, Intermediate Algebra or higher

Strongly recommended: CIS125, Intro to Software Applications

Purpose of the Course:

This course is the first of a two-course sequence, Principles of Accounting, designed for sophomores seeking a four-year degree in Business Administration or Accounting.

In this course, the student will:

- Study financial accounting concepts
- Be introduced to the accounting cycle
- Develop financial statements from business transactions
- Use accounting information to make decisions
- Demonstrate the ability to utilize business computer applications.

Grading:

Final course grades will be determined based on the following point system:

Exams (2 @ 100 points) -----	200 pts.
Chapter Quizzes (9 @ 5pts each)-----	45 pts.
MAL homework (21 @ 10pts each)-----	210
Textbook Homework (21 @ 10pts each)-----	210
Total	665 pts

A (90-100%) B (80-89%) C (70-79%) D (60-69%) F (below 60%)

Students who are unable to successfully complete the course should withdraw prior to the end of the seventh (7th) week of class.

My Accounting Lab (MAL):

We will be using a software supplement throughout the class called My Accounting Lab. You have purchased access to the Lab when you purchased your Custom 2nd Edition textbook. You should perform and submit assigned homework in MAL. There is a great deal of help and study material available through the Lab. You are encouraged to use all the features (Demo Docs, Pre-tests, post-tests, PowerPoint, etc.).

Homework:

Homework is assigned from each chapter covered. Italicized homework is to be completed in MAL. Bolded homework is to be completed manually (by hand or Word or Excel). Bring all completed homework to class for review.

Quizzes:

One for each chapter assigned. Please see MAL for access to the quizzes.

Exams:

Examinations will generally require 1½ hours to complete. The format will be objective questions and quantitative problems. The exams will be closed book/notes. Exam dates are indicated on the “tentative outline” located at the end of this syllabus.
