

THE COMMUNICATOR

THURSDAY AUGUST 30, 1973

OFFICE OF PUBLIC INFORMATION, Ext. 202

BILL SEIBLER . . .

will say good'bye to us for awhile. He has been awarded a fellowship to study administrative problems and methods. He is one of 5 selected from the state of Oregon. He will receive a 3/4 salary stipend. He will, pending Board approval, be on a leave of absence from LBCC until June 30, '74, and he leaves us about September 15th to begin his classes on the 17th.

EAST LINN CENTER . . .

provides a community service in Lebanon. A fire that damaged the high school at Lebanon extensively makes it necessary for the school to find some other quarters and Jim Waggoner offered LBCC's facility for temporary relief.

FROM THE OFFICE OF LEE ARCHIBALD . . .

Staff and students were on hand at the State Fair to man the community colleges' booth and they tell us that interest and questions were surprisingly in evidence. A lot of questions pertained to vocations. Lee said he was questioned about the locksmith's trade, and he could find no community college with a course. Other questions showed some people had never heard of us, but it is all useful information to us as well to the questioner.

Among our students and staff whom Lee thought should be thanked for their help are: Bob Miller, Deborah Cox, Nancy Thompson, Diane Meader, Jon Carnahan, Terrell Case, Archie Moyer, Judy Broeke, Kathy Hack, Hal Johnson.

BUDGET DOCUMENTS . . .

Linda in the Business Office says she has an additional supply of budget documents now for those who need them.

RE POWER USE . . .

Dr. Needham and Ray Jean have a plan for power conservation prepared for LBCC and it is being studied for approval. We'll have more on it next issue.

COMMUNICATOR - 2

FINANCIAL AIDS . . .

has had 315 applications for loans. At this time 153 are enrolled, others are being processed, have not been enrolled as yet or are pending information. There is still some aid available for low income applicants but deadlines are almost at hand.

SOMETHING NEW AND NEEDED . . .

A regular government mail-drop box has been installed ^{located} by the bookstore. Pick-up times are 8:15 and 4:15. Stamps are available in the bookstore.

COMMUNITY ED TABLOID . . .

will be printed about September 10th in local newspapers.

FOR SALE . . .

One aged piano, upright, $1.25 per key - 88 keys - puppy free with piano. Call Mike Patrick, X-231

WANTED . . .

one of those hanging jumper seats for a baby, a Jolly Jumper. Call David Haugen, X-232.

FOR SALE . . .

Cornet, Cleveland, nice condition, $75. Call Janice at 250.

$150 DOG . . . probably free

That beautiful dog Clarice should get a mint of money for is probably FREE about right now - she had to run home and rescue it this morning, seems he escapes and spends his days in utter debauchery at the nearby Artic Circle where the kids pet and spoil him.
