Course Syllabus: I view this syllabus as a contract between myself and the students. It lays out the expectations I have for students enrolled the class and what they should expect from the class. If you have any questions regarding the class, please feel free to contact me via e-mail, office hours or after class.

Required Text: McKay, Understanding Western Society 2nd ed. Vol I. Bedford/Macmillan
978-1-4576-9490-5

Course Goals and Objectives: This is a survey course in Western Civilization from 1100 C.E. to the 1700 C.E. This course will not cover all the events that took place in Western Civilization during that time period, but will deal with major events including: The High Middle Ages, the Bubonic Plague, the Renaissance, Scientific Revolution, Enlightenment, and the Reformation. The course will also cover Western Civilization from a social, political, economic, religious and cultural perspective as time, and course material, allow. I hope that this course will encourage you to take other history courses, and that history is fascinating.

Course Outcomes

- Articulate an understanding of key historical events from the High Middle Ages to the Reformation.
- Identify and investigate historical theses, evaluate information and its sources, and use appropriate reasoning to construct evidence-based arguments on historical issues.
- Construct an historical argument integrating both primary documents and secondary sources.
- Identify and analyze complex practices, values, and beliefs and the culturally and historically defined meanings of difference.

Course Format: This will be a lecture and discussion course that will use the text, McKay, Understanding Western Society 2nd ed. Vol. I. as an outline for the course. The lectures will expand on material from the text, along with video documentaries, and in class readings and discussions. There are 2 required tests (mid-term and final) and a required paper. In class activities will also be graded based on readings and videos that are completed in class. Attendance will be taken weekly. If you miss an in-class assignment without previous arrangement, you cannot make it up for credit. If it is a pre-arranged absence, we can discuss how to make up the required points.

Grades: The grades are broken down in the following manner to make up a total of 250 points:

- Class participation - 20 points
- In class reading and activities - 60 points
- Paper #1 - 50 points
- Midterm - 60 points
- Final - 60 points

I use the standard grading system.

- A - 90% - 100%
- B - 80% - 89%
- C - 70-79%
- D - 60-69%
- F - 59% and below

Course Requirements:

1. There is assigned reading from the text McKay, Understanding Western Society 2nd ed. Vol I.. You are expected to keep up with the reading according to the schedule that follows on the next page. Keeping up with the reading encourages communication in class regarding the information we are going to go over.

2. This class will be largely discussion based. Participation in the class is important to ensuring that you get everything out of the course. Readings in class and class videos will be a part of the class discussion.

3. There will be two, non-comprehensive exams, a midterm and a final. Each exam will be approximately 40 questions long, containing a mixture of multiple choice and short answer questions and you will have the class period to take the exam. The exam will be over the material reviewed in class. If for some reason you are unable to make it to a class where a test will be given, please let me know as soon as possible to arrange a make-up tests. Tests cannot be made up during another class session, but instead at another time.

4. There is an essay due during the class, worth 50 points of the grade. Papers are expected to be written in Size 12, Times New Roman, with One-Inch Margins, Double Spaced, 5 pages in length. Each paper must have a cover page and a bibliography and using proper citations.

5. I expect everyone to treat each other and myself with respect. This means allowing differing opinions, the raising of hands, and the opportunity for everyone to speak.

LBCC's policy regarding cell phone usage is as follows:

"Cell phone use by a student is not permitted in a classroom, restroom, locker room, staff office or work space, including text messaging, without express permission prior to use."

Students are directed to, please, either turn off your cell or turn to vibrate/no sound during class. If a student uses a cell phone during class, they will be given a warning, after that, the student can be excluded for up to two class sessions and referred to the Associate Dean of Student Development. If an emergency situation (family illness, work on-call, etc.), let me know before class and we can arrange something.
