THE DEADLINE WAS FRIDAY!

The informality of "maybe deadlines" is a thing of the past as publications (such as this year's up-coming catalog) go to formal bids. Dr. Adam's secretary must have all catalog copy immediately or the catalog will be a month later in being published. As of now, the finished date stands at the middle of March. Please! Help us stick to realistic deadlines. Get your copy to Loy Jory now!!!!

FEBRUARY 15 IS NOT A HOLIDAY!! So don't plan a leisurely day away from the office! If LBCC personnel celebrate Abe's and George's birthdays, it will have to be on our own time...or quietly at one's own desk.

ARCHIE MOORE HERE MONDAY

If you're a fight-fan, you'll enjoy meeting this champion at LBCC next Monday. He'll be speaking at 2 p.m. in the college Center. JOIN US FOR LUNCH that same day in the Ponderosa Room at the Swept Wing, 12 noon - It's a no-host press conference and Archie will be meeting informally with members of the press and college personnel. Please let Margaret Orsi know so she can make a reservation for you!

LRC HOSTS LIBRARIANS - Oregon Community College librarians met at LBCC's LRC last Friday. Nine Oregon colleges were represented, with a representative present from Washington and the Oregon Librarian School. An exhibit of crafts of West Africa by Barbara Leger was featured.

TAX TIME CLASS - If this time of the year is puzzling to you... Continuing Education is offering a short class "for laymen" beginning Monday, Feb. 8, at Corvallis High School and Tuesday, Feb. 9, at Albany High School. Each meets from 7 - 10 p.m. Call Lorraine for details!

COFFEE CONCERT THURSDAY - Prabha Devi, Sitarist, will be entering in the college center at 11 a.m.

WEDNESDAY EVENTS - at 10 a.m. Caarman Duel will present concert music in the college center, and it's "Marine Visitation" all day!

ARMY EXHIBIT - "Beyond The Call Of Duty" will be in the Schafer Lounge February 4, 5, & 6.

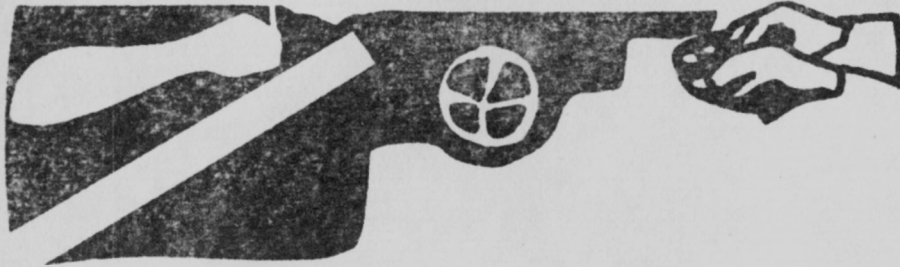

LBCC POLICY MANUAL.... Anyone on campus who has a policy manual, please turn into Margaret Phelan for up-dating as soon as possible.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING STILL BEING ACCEPTED!!!! THE CHARGE IS MOST REASONABLE. (free)

LINN-BENTON COMMUNITY COLLEGE

ALBANY, OREGON

NEWS RELEASE

Walter J. Brick, artist and art instructor at Linn-Benton Community College, has a display of original water colors and oil paintings available to the public in the Schafer Lounge at the college center on campus.

The exhibit will remain open for approximately two weeks, and many of the creations are for sale, according to Brick.
