health and fitness level. Provides information on each of the wellness dimensions as they relate to physical fitness, back care, chronic diseases, stress management, nutrition, weight management, behavior change and lifestyle choices. Considers work-life balance and self-responsibility. Shows the student how to enter the work site as a fit and healthy individual and suggests ways to maintain that level of health. Placement in Writing 90 or higher. Students must be willing to use (not necessarily own) a computer.

Upon completion of the course with a "C" or better, the student should be able to meet the following course outcomes:

1. Define wellness and describe its dimensions.
2. Define individual comprehensive programs for physical fitness, nutrition and stress management.
3. Demonstrate the process for behavior change using the transtheoretical model.
4. Evaluate or assess key indicators of health and fitness such as blood pressure, body composition, blood lipids, blood glucose, cardiorespiratory fitness, muscular strength/endurance and flexibility.

Grading: Point total = Approximately 235

5 Core Assignments 42%/100 points (total of four).

In-class assignments 9%/20 points.

Take-home final 13%/30 points

Assessment Labs: 19%/45 points.

Some labs may be made up if missed. Individuals may be excused from participation if the student or the instructor has legitimate concerns about the student's ability to complete that lab. Make arrangements to be excused with the instructor prior to the lab.

Homework (three or four assignments): 9%/20 points

Attendance: 9%/20 points.

Students attending all classes during the term will be given full attendance credit. After one missed class, 1 point will be deducted for each absence. If students arrive when class is half over, or leave when there is half a class to go, then they'll be given half credit for attendance that day. Please inform instructor if there are attendance concerns beyond your control.

Students may earn the following grades in this class:

90-100% A

80-89.9% B

70-79.9% C

60-69.9% D

Less than 60% F

P/NP — For students who specifically request Pass/No Pass grading, a “P” grade can be issued when they earn more than 70% of the possible points for the class.

The I grade (Incomplete) may be assigned at the instructor’s discretion when: the student has completed 75% or more of the work in the course but is unable to finish the remaining work due to circumstances beyond the control of the student. An incomplete is not used to avoid a failing grade. A contract between the student and instructor must be signed to use this option.
