IV. THE WRITING PORTFOLIO DEFINED

The writing projects that you produce during the quarter are considered “works in progress,” may be revised twice, and will be submitted as your best work in a neatly labeled (cover page and spine) 3-ring, thin binder collection (your portfolio), which will be due the week preceding finals week. Portfolios will not be accepted late. The portfolio should contain the items listed below:

1. A Table of Contents, which states titles, assignments, and tabbed sections
2. Final graded drafts of the four major writing projects for the quarter stapled on top of all previous graded drafts, including #6 below
3. A two-page Reflection on your work for the term (essay form – one paragraph about each essay discussing your topic choice, the process of writing it, and your satisfaction with the results)
4. A one-paragraph explanation of your Writing Methodology (the writing process of steps that you have developed by the end of this class) and how well it now works for you
5. A one-paragraph Class Grade Justification (a proposal for the grade you honestly believe you deserve in this class using evidence based on the Grading of Class Assignments criteria listed above)
6. One hand-corrected (not re-typed) Autobiographical Essay (showing your corrections and comments), which you submitted the first week as a “pre-test” benchmark – an indication of what you learned in the class; include in the portfolio for final grading

VI. IMPORTANT POLICIES

1. Plagiarism: Using another's work (exact words or paraphrase or content summary) as one's own without proper acknowledgement is called plagiarism and may result in failure of the class and suspension. Referenced work must be correctly cited and listed in the Works Cited (MLA) Section of an essay. In-text citations, a Works Cited Section, and a highlighted copy of the source page are required if internet sources are used.

2. Waitlist Policy: If this class is full, registered students not attending the first class during the first week will be withdrawn and waitlisted students who are attending class will be admitted to the class on a first-come first-served space available basis.

3. Disabilities Services and Emergency Planning – Meet with Instructor Week One If you have emergency medical information for your instructor, need special arrangements to evacuate campus, or have a documented disability, please meet with your instructor by appointment no later than the first week of the term to discuss your needs and present your ODS accommodation letter. If you have a documented disability that will impact you at college and you have yet to seek accommodations, contact the Office of Disability Services (ODS) for intake and to document your disability with LBCC. Only students who document a disability and present an accommodation letter to an instructor are entitled to academic accommodation. Each term, when you register for classes and at least two to three weeks prior to the start of a term, submit you "Request for Accommodations" form to ODS. Week 1, pick up letters for your instructors and deliver in person to each instructor during office hours or by appointment. Instructors may need time to arrange your accommodations. ODS may be reached from any LBCC campus/center by email to ODS@linnbenton.edu or by calling 917-4789. Letter pickup is available at each LBCC campus/center. "Additional instructional services, beyond classroom instruction and instructor consultations, are available for all students at the Library and the Learning/Research Center and The Support Lab" (LBCC Faculty Guidelines).
