Open House December 6 .... It really is LBCC's birthday ! On December 6, 1966, the voters established the Linn-Benton Community College Area Education District, and part-time classes got underway in the fall of 1967. We've come a long way, and it's worth celebrating. Do plan to be on hand and bring your friends and relatives.

DISPLAYS will play an important part, so put a little extra effort into yours, won't you? Dr. Adams will be coordinating....so make a room reservation if you don't already have space scheduled.

Following the Albany High School Choir at 3 p.m., LBCC students will be auctioning their time (or at least portions of it!) to raise money for their Tandy Fund. If any staff members would like to volunteer to go on the auction block for a great Christmas cause, you might volunteer with Harvey Scott, or Bobbie Dycus, student chairman. It's just a little extra Christmas Cheer.....

PARTY TICKETS - don't forget to make your December 5 party reservations with Laurel Dye.

DECEMBER 3, KVDO TV, Channel 3, 3:30 p.m. - Valley View will interview three LBCC students about the Birthday Celebration. Steve Springer, Rose Miller and Harvey Scott will be inviting folks to join in the fun.

DECEMBER 4, Student Body President, Gary Stephens, will invite members of the Albany Area Chamber of Commerce to the Open House.

DECEMBER 1, Dr. Needham hosts a luncheon at LBCC for the high school principals and superintendents to discuss how the college and high school districts can work more closely together to provide the best possible educational opportunities for our students.

DECEMBER 2, LBCC is host again - this time to Information and Publications people from the Oregon Community Colleges and the State Department. Again the theme....working together to get the community college story told. Jay Brook's crew will be serving "luncheon"! Can't wait.....

BILL MAIER SENDS RAHS TO THE BOOKSTORE! " A statement of operations on the bookstore's activities for the first quarter of this year has been prepared, and through the efforts of Clarice and her staff there was enough profit to transfer $3,242.18 to the ACCF for their activities." TIP-O FF BOX NOTE.

ORIGINAL LBCC JEWELRY by Jane Leaf is for sale through her own efforts. Sterling silver Roadrunners, seen about campus attached to the ties of some very well-dressed college people, speak highly of her creative efforts. Call her at 926-9473 if you're interested.

THURSDAY & FRIDAY OFF this week for Thanksgiving. (At Christmas the holidays will be the day before and Christmas day -- the 24th & 25th of December.) Have a Happy Thanksgiving.
